

A Word from Our Preaching Pastor:

*Our father's God to Thee, Author of liberty, To Thee we sing;
Long may our land be bright, With freedom's holy light
Protect us by Thy might, Great God Our King*

There is a special joy and pride (the good kind) that comes from knowing that we live in a nation with a long and godly heritage. No, I'm not one of those who imagines that every one of the Founding Fathers was a committed Christian. It's clear they weren't. But many of them were. And what's more, it's just as clear that the original Pilgrims who came to this land seeking religious freedom were indeed faithful and committed (not to mention reformed!) followers of Jesus Christ.

For that reason, when we as biblical Christians celebrate our nation's Independence Day, we can never look at it as just another secular holiday. It is for us a time of thanksgiving and joy for all the good God has done in and through this nation over these many years. And sure, we'll be the first to recognize that America is not (nor has it ever been) a perfect heaven on earth. She has her flaws and indeed, her many sins (abortion certainly comes to mind). Yet God has been pleased, thus far, to use this nation in a special way in this world. And for that we are truly grateful.

How long will God's special providence last for this nation? I really couldn't tell you. But I believe it will be as long as there are Christ-exalting believers who faithfully 'tread the old paths' and preach the Gospel of 'grace through faith in Christ alone' and who are committed to using their many advantages as citizens of this nation to spread the Saving Gospel to the ends of the earth so all will hear and know there is a Savior in Christ. Will you be one of these Gospel-sharers? May God make it so! And may future generations continue to sing, "God bless America"

Seeking Him by faith alone, because of Christ Alone,
